DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1, 5-6 and 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The components C and D in claims 1, 5-6 and 11-13 are vague because the components C and D are optionally added in claim 13 but not in claims 1, 5-6 and 11-13.

In Claim 10, the notation "Z" in line 2 is not defined.

In Claim 11, the notation "R<sup>21</sup>" in the formula II is not defined in Claims 1 and 5.

In Claim 12, the claim words "preferably" and "preferred" are indefinite. Also, the whole claim is vague because the rings  $A^{41-44}$  are not part of the formula V and formula VI is missing in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-3 and 5-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b)/(e) as being anticipated by Andou et al. (WO 97/36847 or US 6,190576 or US 6,319,570).

The references disclose that the liquid crystal compounds are used to produce liquid-crystal compositions and devices including (super) twist nematic and the in-plane switching-driven thin-film transistor types or active matrix mode.

The composition example 5 on col. 64 comprising the compounds [5-HBCF(2F, 3F)-O2], [5-HVHEB(2F, 3F)-O2], [2-PyB-2, 3-PyB-2, 4-PyB-2, 3-HHB-O1, 2-PyBH-3, 3-PyBH-3 and 3-PyBB-2] and [3-HHB-F] read on the present formulae I, II, IV and V, respectively. Also, see composition examples 30. The references anticipate the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claims 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andou et al. abovementioned in view of Pausch et al. (US 6,027,665).

Andou differs from the claim in that the claim comprises an additional compound represented by the formula III. Because the compound of formula III used in IPS display in which the pixels are addressed by means of an active matrix is known in the art, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to admix the compound with reference composition to arrive at the claimed invention. See from col. 2 to col. 5.

6. Claims 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andou et al. abovementioned in view of Leenhouts et al. (US 5,883,686).

Andou differs from the claim in that the claim comprises a three-pole switching element. Leenhouts teaches an active-matrix display device with three-pole switching elements such as TFTs with a smaller difference in charge current at different picture content. Because the three-pole switching element used in active matrix is known in the art, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to apply three-pole switching element in the reference active matrix display device to arrive at the claimed invention. See lines 5-19 on col. 1.
